The Mortal Remains of the late Gen. J. E. Moore at Rest.

Interred with Masonic and Military Honors in Greenwood.

The mortal remains of the late Gen. Jesse H. Moore arrived at the Union depot from Callao, Peru, this morning at four o'clock, and were received by friends and removed in the Bullard hearse to the vestibule of the First M. E. Church, of which congregation the deceased was once a pastor.

The Peruvian hermetically sealed wooden casket, gently polished, was enclosed in a heavy pine box, addressed simply, "H. M. Moore, Decatur, Ill."

The casket was marked at the foot in silver letters, "J. H. M." but there were no handles or other ornaments. This morning Undertaker Bullard placed handles on the casket and a silver plate engraved as follows on the top:

"GEN. J. H. MOORE,
July 11th, 1883."

The casket is a new one, the one in which the deceased was interred over two years ago having been sent aside. The remains are in a metallic receptacle inside the casket. The receptacle was not opened.

AT GREENWOOD.
The arrangement yesterday was to allow the body to remain at the depot until 10 a. m. to-day, but it was thought more appropriate to remove the body from the train to the church and it was done.

Shortly after 10 o'clock to-day the family and a number of friends with the organization assembled at the church and the procession moved to Greenwood cemetery in the following order:

Goodman's Bagp.
Members of the Union Post No. 111, G. A. R., and firing squad.
Members of the Union Post No. 14, S. O. V., Members of Mason Lodge, No. 3, A. F. and A. M., in regalia.

Pall-bearers—C. M. Imboden, D. C. Shockey, R. E. and W. W. Werners.
Members of the clergy and friends in carriages.

On the way to the cemetery the band played the appropriate funeral dirge "There is no Place Like Home." The last words the General uttered on that fatal July day were, "I want to go home."

Owing to the chilliness of the day, many friends preferred to walk to the cemetery. On arriving at the Moore lot, which is located near the old entrance, south and west of the Gov. Oglesby lot, the Methodist Church burial service was read by Rev. George Sterens, pastor of Stapp's Chapel. The church service was followed by the observance of the impressive Masonic burial rites, Rev. T. I. Coultas, of the First Methodist Church, serving as chaplain for the order. Then the Grand Army Post squad fired a military salute over the grave of their lamented comrade, who was president of the Macon County Veterans Association and of the first grand army post ever organized, No. 1, of Decatur.

Thus were the last respects of the living paid to the illustrious dead. He was a good citizen, a noble hearted, patriotic man, a kind father and devoted husband, and at the risk of his life he went forth to battle for the preservation of the Union. Finally he went to South America, and fell a victim to yellow fever at Callao in July, two years ago. His remains now rest in the grave at his home and the home of his family. Peace to his ashes.

Emmet Keating, who was confined to the calaboose for pilfering the Washburn freight house, escaped Wednesday night and is still at large. By the use of a short board he spread the bars in a window, which were only pieces of lightening rod fastened in a frame, and escaped. It is supposed that he had help from the outside.—Benton Gazette.

Keating is one of the boys arrested here for the burglary. He was put under bonds at the trial, but couldn't furnish security and went to jail.

THE OLD FAVORITES
Donavin's Tennesseans are to give one of their musical entertainments at the opera house on Tuesday evening of next week. Judging of the high reputation the Tennesseans have maintained since their organization in 1873, and the unlimited praise accorded them by eminent musical critics and the public press wherever they have been, it is not too much to predict that it will prove the best concert of vocal music ever given here. Their programme embraces a large variety and wide range of singing, which cannot fail to please all. They were one of the leading attractions at Chantanooga at the 1875 and 1884 assemblies.

THE OLD FELLOWS' GROWTH.

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at Springfield this week the report of the order was presented. It was largely attended by Decatur members, the Degree Staff bearing off the honors. In the reports the Grand Master made the order in a healthy condition, but exhibiting no marked numerical growth during the year. There were 2,749 initiations, 703 members admitted by card, and 688 reinitiated—making a total of 4,081; but the total of dues of loss in membership by withdrawal and otherwise, was 4,375, so that a net loss of 294 was sustained. Taking this from the total membership of the preceding year, 3,347, the total present membership is 32,101. The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand at the beginning of the year of $17,684.80, and receipts during the year of $18,231.30; or total resources of $35,916.10. The expenditures for mileage and other items amount to $13,325.41, leaving a balance of $10,589.19. The relief finances show $39.92 in the special relief fund, and $3,000 in United States treasury bonds, so that the treasury actually contains $30,589.41.

Cummock.
One of the pleasantest entertainments offered to the people of Decatur this season is the humorous, dramatic and heroic readings to be given by Prof. R. L. Cummock at the opera house to-morrow night.

The selections given are not the old hackneyed ones that we have been accustomed to hear from "alleged" elocutionists for years past, but are for the most part fresh and of a character well calculated to display the Professor's wide range of elocutionary powers. He carries his audience with him throughout, in the pathetic as well as the humorous, and his impersonations of English, Scotch, Irish, French and Roman characters are strikingly faithful and natural. No one should fail to hear this most renowned of modern public speakers.

Teaney's Creamery.
The Platt county creamery is still in the lead, and doing a good business. While the creameries in other parts are being shut down, and some sold out by the sheriff, Mr. Teaney is making his hay. From the 16th of April to the 1st of November his creamery manufactured sixty-seven thousand pounds of butter. Three thousand pounds were sold in Decatur, and sixty-four thousand pounds were shipped to other markets. Mr. Teaney says the creamery will run all winter and as long as cows give milk.

The Dance To-Night.
The following programme will be observed at the Leonard Assembly at the Armory to-night:

Promenade.
Waltz.
Quadrille—Plain.
Redowa Scotchlike.
Lancers—Single.
Waltz—New Dance.
Quadrille—Social.
Waltz—Lancers in a Minuet.
Newport.
Quadrille—Caledonians.
Highland Gavotte.
Waltz.
Waltz—Star.
Waltz—Home.

THERE was a good-sized audience out last night to witness "Muggs' Landing," the laughing success in four acts. Miss Bishop was the star, and she sang and danced like an artist, splendidly supported by Harry Mills, the land agent, and R. L. Scott, who represented the regular army. They were the life of the piece. The play is a good one for fun, and there is just enough of wit and mystery and love about it to keep the interest in the plot alive until the close of the last act.

COMPLIMENTARY.
The Odd Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah got home from Springfield this morning. At the session of the Grand Lodge last night there was a great attendance. The Grand Master gave way to the Degree Staff of Celestial Lodge No. 186, of Decatur, which took charge of the proceedings and conferred the several degrees upon a candidate as a special complimentation of the work. The State Journal of to-day says: "Their work was spoken of in the most laudatory terms by the brethren who witnessed it."

REWARD of $5.00.
"Prince," a four pound black-and-tan dog belonging to Geo. Hous, proprietor of the restaurant at No. 114 North Water street, disappeared Monday noon. A reward of $5 (50) will be paid for the return of the dog, or for information which will lead to the recovery. 17-3w1

STALK AHEAD THE FARMER.
The farmer who is quietly rustication away from the scenes and tumults incident to crowded cities may congratulate himself that he is in no manner affected by the strikes and lockouts that occasionally occur, but such is not true. Whether a mechanic is thrown out of employment the farmer loses just one more customer. The mechanic is compelled to reduce his expenses, and the farmer possible point, and every reduction he makes decreases the demand for the productions of the farm. And the mechanic is interested in the success of the farmer, for whenever he short the mechanic must pay higher prices, while the farmer has less to sell. Both classes are mutually dependent upon each other in a great many ways. Every burden that is placed upon the shoulders of either class must be borne by both. Every strike that occurs lessens the purchasing power of the farmer, and every monopolist who fattens at the expense of the working classes takes his gains through them directly from the farmers.

Going into the Wholesale Business.
Buscher & Hum will offer their mammoth stock of Boots and Shoes cheaper than ever before heard of in Decatur. Great bargains for everybody. No humping. Must close out our large retail store by Jan. 1, 1887. Don't miss the great bargains. Respectfully,

PERSONAL MENTION.

Robert Mueller and Ed. Denz were at Forsyth last night attending a reception at the residence of Charles Bull.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Denz, on Nov. 16, at Chicago, a daughter. Grandpa Andrew Dennis got the news to-day.

Geo. V. Loring is home from Sullivan where he was a witness in a suit for damages, in which Mrs. Rachael Gallagher is defendant.

Manager J. E. Ewald, of the Western Union office, arrived to-day from Little Rock, Ark., accompanied by his family. The trip seems to have done him good.

Mr. and Mrs. James Spargur, of Hillsboro, Ohio, arrived in the city this morning. They are guests of Mrs. Spargur's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David L. Hughes.

Azarish Boody, former president of the Washburn Railway, for whom the town of Boody in this county was named, died in New York city yesterday at the age of 70 years.

O. V. Wall, brother of O. N., and the funny man of the Newman Independent, is about to depart for the Pacific coast, where he has accepted a position on the staff of the California Maverick, a humorous paper.

LOWE DISCHARGED.
John Lowe, of Maroa, arrested on a state warrant, charged with having made an assault on Justice Craig, at Maroa, was to have had his examination to-day in Justice Lowe's court. Justice Craig appeared in person and declined to prosecute the defendant, and Lowe was discharged.

Charged with Perjury.
The Emma Bond case is still in the court at Taylorville. John Montgomery, one of the celebrated defendants in the outrage case, was indicted for perjury. He will probably have his trial at the term now in session. Phillips is the presiding judge. Gen. Palmer is one of the attorneys from Springfield in attendance.

A Standard.
A gentleman just in from that ancient village of Decatur says they have a couple of cases of smallpox there.—Danville News, 18th

There is no truth whatever in the above statement, as there has not been a case of the disease here for several years. Why the News should recklessly print such a slanderous story is a mystery. We shall expect the News to correct the error at once.

EDWARD KRETZER, late of Harriestown, has paid Mr. Allison $500 for a lot 105x367, south of the Springfield road and west of the McClellan property. Mr. Kretzer is now engaged in putting up a new house on the lot which he will occupy.

A CARD.
The widow and family of the late Gen. Jesse H. Moore desire to express their most sincere and heartfelt thanks to the citizens of Decatur and Macon county, who have so many times and in various ways, shown them their respect and sympathy.

HIRSH JOHNSON and family, late of Shelby county, to-day moved into the Henry May residence property, at corner of West Decatur and Monroe streets, recently purchased by Mr. Johnson for $1,000. They are permanently settled in our city now; he has bought other Decatur property.

O. A. TITTLE is engaged in leveling the James Millikin lawn, which with that of H. W. Hill is so much admired by citizens and visitors in the summer season. The lawn along the West Main street side is a little too high. That is being cut down and the dirt hauled away to fill up low places.

SPRING CHICKEN.
When winter spreads its wings,
Look out with us
Proud bird of whom the poet sings:
And p. paraphrase puns nothing
At thy carcass.
Ye innocent spring chickens,
When rainy summer days
Doth gladden us,
Ye still art there toadden us;
How oft you tempt our taste and ours,
Sneak past by name,
And o'ert out of season,
Ye miserable spring chicken.

FIX AHEAD.
Who can sell goods the cheapest is the question? We do not intend going out of business, neither do we intend embarking in the wholesale trade. But at the same time we will not be undersold by our competitors who "claim" so much. The season is late and we have a very large stock of fall boots and shoes which we must reduce. Until January 1st we will sell at very low prices any goods in the store. Remember the reliable and popular firm of J. H. Black & Son. 19-dtf

THE PALACE.
Mr. H. W. Davis, proprietor of the Palace Hotel, has a card in to-day's issue to which we direct special attention. He has one of the finest and most homelike hotels in Decatur. Give it a trial.
